WALLCOVERING COLLECTIONS

GREGORIUS | PINEO

Handcrafted by Atelier

ACROSS TIME.

We turn to an artistry dating back some 3,000 years ago to create the unexpected in the introduction of Handcrafted by Atelier VENETIANS. This collection's two wallcovering qualities – Morandi and Scarpa - owe their inspiration to Italian masters of art and architecture– Giorgio Morandi and Carlo Scarpa.

We share in these artists' reverence of nature and time-honored craft with a modernist eye. Constructed by hand, our artisans use classic materials of plasters, pigments, and marble dust with a classically trained hand. However, it's in each quality's design, texture, and color that express what's uniquely our own and distinctive to our Handcrafted by Atelier surfaces.

With eight colorways expressed in both Morandi and Scarpa qualities, as well as our invitation for customization, there's no doubt what we create in our Venetians wall textures is a labor of artisanal love.

MORANDI

Born in 1890, Giorgio Morandi was his generation's disrupter. His mastery of nuance and technique with a new voice in tonal and spatial relations inspire us. Our Morandi quality finds his spirit in the handmade surface we construct that expresses a palpable light in its layers of tones and textures. A complement to any interior space – residential or commercial – Morandi says organic modernity.

SCARPA

The creation of our Scarpa quality pays homage to the great architect, Carlo Scarpa. In this quality our plasterwork composite must go a step further to accommodate our design of a rhythmic, geometric silkscreen pattern. Within this foundation, the pattern serves as a second skin. Carefully coaxed with our signature hand-application, the silkscreen design is punctuated by the maker's use of age-old wood-blocking tools and techniques.
